History of Nena

Although an exploratory meeting was held in 1941 under the chairmanship of the late Sheperd Pond little was actively accomplished until after 1947. In that year a second meeting was held in Boston with Henry Schumacher as chairman. Organizational work was started and in 1947 at the third meeting, held in Providence with Horace Grant as chairman, the New England Numismatic Association was formed with Harold Whiteneck as its first president.

From then on NENA has snowballed, increasing its membership each year. Conventions have been held in Boston, Providence, New Haven, Hartford, Springfield and Worcester. It has advanced from a one-day to a two-day convention. It publishes a NENA NEWS bimonthly and has at present close to three hundred names on its list.

It would be folly to try and single out the individuals who have contributed most to the present prosperous state of NENA. The pioneers have already been mentioned and all honor to them. The workers have been many and let us hope their enthusiasm and interest will build NENA to greater heights in the years to come.

President's Message

To Members and Guests of the New England Numismatic Association:

A Cordial Welcome to Worcester

We have planned for your enjoyment and entertainment, social and numismatic, through many months, and the committee hopes that their efforts will be crowned with success and meet with your approbation, so that ours may surpass all preceding conventions.

Five years ago we last met in Worcester, and those intervening years have caused vast changes.

We still have our old friends, and many new ones, and we have widened our friendly circle to help in the work of the Association, its expansion, its rise, its ever excelling influence and achievements.

In behalf of all these fellow collectors and fellow workers in the New England Area, including New York, we extend the glad hand of Welcome to you one and all, for a successful, harmonious, interesting and joyful, ninth annual convention of NENA.

Earl V. Tuttle

THE HEART OF THE COMMONWEALTH

Worcester, your host city for the ninth annual NENA Convention, is very much alive numismatically through NENA and the Worcester County Numismatic Society. Both these organizations go back only a few short years but even further back, in 1891 a life long resident of Worcester, Charles Tatman was a secretary of ANA. Again in 1910 George Tilden, another Worcester resident was ANA secretary. And in talking with Mr. Tilden he told us that for some time a printing shop here on Front Street published the Numismatist. So with this background, Worcester, the Heart of the Commonwealth welcomes you.

Naturally we expect this convention to be the best yet. Committees have been working months with that goal in mind. Not only committees but your NENA officers, W. C. N. S. members, Chamber of Commerce and hotel officials all have lent a welcome helping hand. We hope the results will please you.

Worcester, one hour from New York by air and one hour from Boston by motor has many claims to fame.

Elm Park was the first municipal park in America.

Home of the American Antiquarian Society where students and research workers from all over the world use its complete files.

Worcester Historical Society.

Worcester Art Museum.

The first dictionary in the United States was published here.

Center of the machine tool trade.

Home of Norton Company, largest manufacturer of abrasives in the world.

On the outskirts is now rising a mammoth plant sponsored by the U. S. Government where in the near future, airplane wings will be forged in one piece on the largest presses in the world.

Worcester is also the home of the John Woodman Higgins Armory, one of the finest if not the finest collection of armor and kindred objects in the world. Incidentally it is housed in the first all steel and glass office building erected in this country.

In appreciation of their assistance and contributions toward a successful Convention, Nena publishes the following names.
